

Welcome

Travel has been my life for over 20 years. St Augustine's famous quote remains as true to me today as it was when I first set up 2by2 Holidays – "the world is a book and those who do not travel, read only one page".

My first love was Africa, the place of my birth. Its remarkable wildlife and cultures continue to captivate me today.

A recent visit to the wildlife of the Serengeti has starkly reminded me just how fragile the survival of so many endangered species remains and reinforced my belief that travel must always have conservation at its heart.

In recent years I have discovered the joys of travel in the Indian subcontinent and Latin America. The iconic sites and cultures there are no less enthralling and everywhere wildlife adapts and survives, from harsh barren deserts to cool mountain cloud forests and tropical wetlands.

My enthusiasm burns as brightly as ever and I continue to be as involved in every aspect of the business as I always have been, backed up by our superb travel team. I'm particularly thrilled that so many of our customers return time after time.

I do hope you find our latest brochure inspiring and we all look forward to hearing from you.

Tango, Buenos Aires

Argentina

Argentina is a big country in every sense. It is wonderfully diverse, blending sophisticated city life with truly amazing food and breathtaking scenery – from the rainforests of Iguazu and arid landscapes of Salta, to the spectacular glaciers of Patagonia.

The capital Buenos Aires is the true heart of Argentina. Located on the estuary of the enormous Rio de la Plata (River of Silver), it epitomises the history and versatility of this fascinating country and is the main entry point for visitors. A café and market culture holds sway in this sophisticated and well-organised modern city, where everything is on offer from the finest steaks in the world to Eva Peron's famous Pink House, the 'Casa Rosada'.

Any trip to Buenos Aires should include a tango show. You don't have to join in, but the elegance and symbolism of this national dance will leave you spellbound. You can also take a boat excursion to the Tigre Delta, or a day trip to a gaucho estancia (cowboy ranch) to experience the unique skills, dress and traditions of these famous horsemen. Be sure to taste an empanada, a small traditional pie, and enjoy an asado (barbecue) accompanied by fine Argentinian wine. Serious riders should opt for a longer stay at a ranch further afield, set against a backdrop of the Sierra Chica Mountains, or play a chukka or two on the polo field.

For sunshine and sand you can visit the beach-lined coast of Uruguay, which is easily reached from Buenos Aires by hydrofoil across the Rio de la Plata. Head for glamorous Punta del Este or laid-back, arty Jose Ignacio.

At the northeastern tip of the country are the Iguazu Falls, shared with Brazil, where they are called Iguassu, and one of the most inspiring waterfalls in the world. Meaning 'Great Waters', these magnificent falls are twice the size of Niagara and constitute one of the major must-see sights on the planet. Both sides of the falls can be visited with ease, with the Brazilian side providing postcard views whilst the Argentinian side affords the best opportunity to explore the rainforest and the many cataracts.

Comprising over 275 separate cascades, the Iguazu Falls form a curtain of foaming water that crashes over a vast granite amphitheatre into the jungle below. Resembling a reverse 'J', most of the river plunges down through an area known as the Devil's Throat, with the rest spreading out over a wide shelf that splits into hundreds of different waterfalls. There are a series of walkways that lead above, below and behind the falls with breathtaking views. You can also hope to see monkeys, toucans, parakeets and other wildlife that live in this rainforest.

Upstream from the falls you can discover the lush Iryapu rainforest, staying in a comfortable jungle lodge and exploring on foot with a local guide or by boat, gliding through the waterways. You should see a great diversity of butterflies and many vivid tropical birds such as the Plain parakeet, Black-fronted piping guan, Great dusky swift and elusive Harpy eagle. Interesting reptiles and insects abound and if you are fortunate you may catch a glimpse of one of the larger creatures that live here such as the caiman, coati, jaguar, jaguarundi, tapir, anteater or ocelot.

For red wine aficionados, Mendoza in the west, is the country's wine capital. Argentina is world-famous for making superb wines from the Malbec grape and here you can tour the vineyards, see how the wine is made and sample the results. The tranquil town of Cafayate in the north, set amongst spectacular Andean mountains, is Argentina's second wine centre and specialises in dry white wine made from the Torrontés grape.

Also in the northwest, around the old colonial town of Salta, you will find stunning geological features and fantastically coloured rock formations. Dominated by the Andes, the local culture is strong here.

When to go

The best time to visit Buenos Aires, the Lake District and Mendoza winelands is November to March (the warm summer), but April/May (autumn) and September/October (spring) are also very pleasant. June to August is the cold winter. The Iguazu Falls have their highest water flow between March and May following the summer rains, but they are a spectacular sight at any time of year. Patagonia is best from November to March but, being so far south, the weather can be very changeable. Most facilities close from April to August, when heavy clouds obscure the mountains and temperatures drop sharply.

Perito Moreno Glacier

Los Glaciares National Park

Cafayate Gorge, Salta

Elephant seal

The best way to experience Patagonia is on a thrilling expedition cruise, disembarking by panga boat twice daily to explore its glaciers, fjords and islands.

After visiting the High Mountain Museum, take a trip to the high-altitude Salinas Grande salt flats, staying at the Indian village of Purmamarca and returning via the dramatic landscapes of Humahuaca Gorge. You can also take the narrow gauge 'Train to the Clouds' travelling through the multi-coloured Toro Gorge, a fabulous journey through dense forest and brightly coloured canyons.

In the southwest of the country the Lake District beckons, with fresh air and adventure. The scenic alpine town of Bariloche, with its strong German community, is an ideal base from which to explore the stunningly beautiful Nahuel Huapi National Park. Take in the pristine glacial lakes and verdant green landscapes, all with an Andean backdrop. An excursion into Chile's Lake District can easily be arranged, with a scenic boat crossing to Puerto Varas.

Patagonia in the far south is Argentina's essential must-see. This spectacular region of mountains and ice is usually accessed from El Calafate, the gateway town to Los Glaciares National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site where you can see the famous Perito Moreno Glacier. With luck you may see it 'calving', when huge chunks of ice break off the glacier and crash into the lake below. The Southern Patagonia Ice Field dominates this region of towering mountains and glacial lakes and a boat ride to the base of the glacier is an unforgettable experience. You can also visit an 'estancia' (ranch) or take a boat ride up the northern arm of Lake Argentino to the Upsala Glacier.

To view marine life, head to Puerto Madryn on the eastern Atlantic coast. The Valdés Peninsula is a site of global significance for the conservation of threatened marine species and you can expect to see elephant seals, penguins, orcas and numerous seabirds. Southern right whales also breed here. The whale-watching season extends from May to December, but the best chances of sightings are in September and October. On land look for the rhea, a large flightless ostrich-like bird, and the Patagonia fox. You can also enjoy Welsh tea cakes in Gaiman, Trelew and Trevelin which are home to a large Welsh community.

At the tip of the continent, on the island of Tierra del Fuego you will find the regional capital of Ushuaia, which is the southernmost city in the world. Patagonia expedition cruises set off from here, navigating from Ushuaia to Punta Arenas in Chile and vice versa. Sail through the Beagle Channel to Wulaia Bay and Cape Horn and cruise through the magnificent fjords and glaciers of Glacier Alley, whilst looking out for marine life such as elephant seals and sea lions. Some cruises visit the Magellan penguins on Tucker Islets and Ainsworthy Bay, while others visit Magdalena Island. Each day shore excursions are arranged to view glaciers and the breathtaking scenery, so remember to wrap up warmly. Transfers to shore are by 'panga', a rubber-sided zodiac boat, and are a thrilling experience.

Ushuaia is also the setting off point for most cruises to the Falkland Islands and Antarctica.

Special Interest Holidays

Travel offers a wonderful opportunity to do and see things that you have previously only dreamed of. We can introduce you to a wonderland of new experiences and if you have a particular passion or interest, we are the people to talk to. Known for our wildlife and cultural holidays, we also have expertise in many other specialisms. Unlike most travel companies, we take the time to research and book even the most unusual requests. Here we highlight some of the special interest holidays that other customers have loved.

Walking

If you enjoy hiking, we offer a thrilling range of walking safaris – ranging from a few hours in the early morning or late afternoon, accompanied by an armed ranger, to specialised walking camps in Botswana and South Africa where all game viewing is on foot. We also offer point-to-point trails in Zambia, where you can spend a week walking from one remote bush camp to another – a truly unforgettable experience!

You can trek to see mountain gorillas, and in most of our destinations we can incorporate a variety of walking and hiking trails into your itinerary, ranging from day hikes to waterfalls and volcanoes in Costa Rica, to Peru's iconic Inca Trail and Nepal's stunning Annapurna Trek.

If you are sufficiently fit, you can even combine a safari in East Africa with climbing Mount Kilimanjaro, accompanied by experienced mountain guides.

Birding

Many of our customers are avid birders who want to spot regional endemics, as well as increase their life list, whilst others are more casual birders who simply enjoy the pleasure of identifying known species and spotting new ones. Whichever category you fit into, we know how important it is to design an itinerary that visits the best birding regions, at the right time of year.

With our extensive network of specialist birding guides, we can tailor make private tours to key destinations such as Costa Rica, Colombia, Mexico, Chile, Argentina, Peru, Ecuador and Galapagos, Brazil, Guyana, Madagascar, South Africa, Botswana, Kenya, Tanzania, India, Bhutan and Sri Lanka. We can also help you track down iconic species, such as the Harpy eagle in Panama.

We offer cheaper lodge-based birding holidays too, using guides employed by the various lodges – although the quality of guiding can vary – and a few scheduled departure tours in high demand countries such as Costa Rica.

Sports & Cultural Events

As we tailor make all our holidays, we cater to a wide range of special interests.

Golf

Our golf holidays in South Africa are particularly popular, allowing golfers to escape the northern winter and combine championship golf with wine tasting and a luxury safari or beach break. You can select the courses you wish to play, varying from social to world class.

Riding

Our riding holidays vary from thrilling mobile horseback safaris in Big Five territory for experienced riders, to family-friendly lodge-based riding holidays suitable for all levels.

Diving

The Indian Ocean offers outstanding diving in warm water, from Kenya all the way down to Zanzibar, Mozambique and South Africa, as well as the islands of the Maldives, Andamans, Mauritius, Seychelles and Madagascar. Galapagos offers live-aboard dive ships, whilst Mexico and Belize offer superb Caribbean diving.

Fishing

These same regions offer some of the best deep-sea fishing in the world. To this must be added the renowned fishing waters of the Baja Peninsula in Mexico.

Sports Events

Sports events are often the catalyst for a special holiday. We can source tickets to rugby internationals in South Africa and Argentina, as well as cricket tests in India, Sri Lanka and South Africa. We can also arrange Grand Prix packages.

Cultural Events

We can also build a holiday around special events such as the Rio Carnival, Holi in India or the Day of the Dead celebrations in Mexico

Cruises & Houseboats

Expedition cruises explore regions that are difficult to reach in other ways, whilst relaxing houseboats provide a different perspective from the water.

Expedition Cruises

Expedition cruises to the Galapagos Islands in Ecuador are the best way to explore the unique wildlife of this stunning archipelago. Itineraries vary in length from several days to a week or more, with a wide choice of boats varying in size, design and cost.

Patagonia expedition cruises sail from southern Argentina to Chile, and vice versa, navigating via Glacier Alley and Cape Horn.

Expedition cruises to the Falkland Islands and Antarctica use much larger vessels capable of handling the polar ice.

You need to be relatively mobile to enjoy an expedition cruise, as you will disembark twice a day for excursions, making your way down a gangplank into a zodiac-type inflatable.

Houseboats

Houseboats are a relaxing way to watch the world go by. They are the perfect way to explore the mighty Amazon River, the largest in South America, whether boarding from Manaus in Brazil, Coca in Ecuador or Iquitos in Peru.

You can also explore Brazil's southern Pantanal by houseboat or sail down the Magdalena River in Colombia.

India has houseboats that sail down the Brahmaputra and Ganges Rivers and are wonderful for observing local life. You can also spend a night on a traditional rice houseboat gliding through the Kerala backwaters.

In Africa, Botswana has houseboats on the Chobe River, superb for both wildlife viewing and tiger fishing, whilst Zimbabwe has houseboats on Lake Kariba. Lake Jozini in South Africa also offers tiger fishing by houseboat.

Houseboat facilities will be en suite, but expect the cabins on many boats to be relatively small and simple.

Ocean Cruises

Through our sister company, Auriel Holidays, we can source a wide variety of ocean cruises that can tie in with tailor-made land arrangements, either before or after your cruise.

Accessible Travel

If you are a wheelchair user or have limited mobility, long-haul travel poses a unique set of challenges, but as the UK market leader in accessible safari holidays we have considerable expertise in this field. Our greatest experience is in Southern and East Africa, but we have been expanding our knowledge in recent years and we now also offer accessible holidays to India, Sri Lanka and Latin America.

Whether you are simply unsure about travelling without assistance, walk with sticks or use a wheelchair permanently, we can design a holiday appropriate to your needs. We know which hotels and lodges are accessible (i.e. ramps, roll-in showers and grab rails) and which are not, and your private guide can travel with a shower chair if needed. However if you use a power chair, we will need to get the approval of the airline before we can confirm your holiday.

In South Africa, Zimbabwe, Kenya, Tanzania and Namibia we have access to a small number of accessible vehicles, with ramps for wheelchairs. If you have upper body strength and can transfer into a regular vehicle, you will have more destination choices.

In India we also have a few accessible vehicles on the famous Golden Triangle route. In Latin America accessible vehicles are found mostly in the larger cities, but if you use a manual wheelchair we can take you to places such as Machu Picchu and the Galapagos Islands.

The accessible section of our website showcases the many destinations we offer, but as you will have many questions please call us to discuss your specific needs or visit us in person and we will be happy to go through all the details with you.

As accessible hotels, guides and vehicles are always in short supply, you should book your holiday well in advance.
