

Welcome

Travel has been my life for over 20 years. St Augustine's famous quote remains as true to me today as it was when I first set up 2by2 Holidays – "the world is a book and those who do not travel, read only one page".

My first love was Africa, the place of my birth. Its remarkable wildlife and cultures continue to captivate me today. A recent visit to the wildlife of the Serengeti has starkly reminded me just how fragile the survival of so many endangered species remains and reinforced my belief that travel must always have conservation at its heart.

In recent years I have discovered the joys of travel in the Indian subcontinent and Latin America. The iconic sites and cultures there are no less enthralling and everywhere wildlife adapts and survives, from harsh barren deserts to cool mountain cloud forests and tropical wetlands.

My enthusiasm burns as brightly as ever and I continue to be as involved in every aspect of the business as I always have been, backed up by our superb travel team. I'm particularly thrilled that so many of our customers return time after time.

I do hope you find our latest brochure inspiring and we all look forward to hearing from you.

Rio de Janeiro

Brazil

Brazil is the largest country in South America, famous for its glamorous beaches, energetic cities and fun loving Brazilians with their celebrated love of music and dance. It is also the place to see exceptional wildlife in the Pantanal Wetlands and Amazon Basin.

Rio de Janeiro is South America's most famous city and every year the world's gaze focuses on its fantastic carnival, traditionally held in February or March. Prices rocket but Carnival is truly sensational with spectacular costumes and samba bands that power the rhythm. The energy and footwork of the dancers is amazing – they literally dance for hours. Whatever time of year, Rio's incredible Latin vibe makes it the first stop on most holidays to Brazil.

Take the cog train through Tijuca rainforest to Corcovado Mountain to view the towering statue of Christ the Redeemer, one of the seven wonders of the modern world, with a spectacular 360 degree panorama of the city. Also take the two cable cars up Sugarloaf Mountain for wonderful views over Copacabana Beach and Guanabara Bay, with its many inlets packed with small boats. A city tour is also a must, including a visit to the Sambódromo, the colourful Selaron Steps and Maracana football stadium, one of the largest in the world. The Museum of Contemporary Art is also outstanding.

It will take most of the day to explore the famous beaches of Copacabana, Ipanema and Leblon, using the magnificent pedestrian walkway designed by Oscar Niemeyer, with its undulating black and white curves of basalt and limestone. Allow plenty of time to stop and people-watch, drink delicious coconut water or freshly made caipirinha, Brazil's national cocktail. There is a huge array of places to eat, from local churrascarias (barbeques), to high quality sushi bars and seafood restaurants.

Although the beaches are great in Rio, they are city beaches with strong currents so many visitors opt to spend some time at one of the nearby beach resorts. Buzios is only a few hours to the north and is the ideal spot to laze away the day. It is busy in the summer months and especially at weekends, but this all adds to the vibrant beach lifestyle for which Brazil is so famous.

The Portuguese colonial town of Paraty, three hours drive south of Rio, is another good option. Also known as the Emerald Coast, Paraty is a UNESCO World Heritage Site with brightly coloured houses, cobbled streets and a picturesque harbour offering boat trips to explore the lush rainforest.

Or if you wish to do nothing but relax on a spectacular local beach, you can stay on nearby Ilha Grande.

Further south, the vast beach of Praia do Rosa is a short flight from Rio and a one hour drive from Florianopolis. Here you can whale watch from June to November.

The thundering Iguassu Falls located in the southwest corner of Brazil are truly impressive and one of the greatest natural wonders in the world. With a network of over 275 different waterfalls, Iguassu is twice the size of Niagara and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The gateway town of Foz do Iguacu offers easy access to both the Argentinian and Brazilian sides of the falls. The falls and their rainforests can also be reached from Ciudad del Este in Paraguay.

One of the most impressive features of the falls is a horseshoe-shaped curve called the Devil's Throat, where approximately half of the entire volume of water powers through. Boat trips can take you right under the falls but hold on tight, take a mac and be prepared to get wet. Helicopter flights offer spectacular views and give a real sense of how extensive the falls are. Iguassu Falls National Park protects much endangered wildlife, as well as extensive bird and butterfly life.

A raccoon-like animal called a coati lives in abundance here and caiman can be spotted further down the river.

The city of Salvador on the northeast coast, in Bahia state, has historical links with the west coast of Africa, the sugar industry and the slave trade. As a result its culture is an Afro/Brazilian fusion, drummed out to the beat of the samba, with a carnival to rival that of Rio and their own unique Capoeira dances, music, and food such as 'moqueca', a tasty seafood stew.

When to go

Brazil has a warm tropical climate. Peak season in Rio de Janeiro is November to March (summer), with Rio Carnival taking place 40 days before Easter when prices rise significantly. However these are the hottest and most humid months with the highest rainfall, so many people prefer to visit in April/May and September/October (the shoulder months). June to August is the mild winter, with the least rain. The Iguassu Falls have their highest water flow between March and May, following the summer rains, but they are a spectacular sight at any time of year. Salvador, Recife and the beach resorts of the northeast coast have an opposite rainy season, so are best visited from August to March. Jaguar sightings in the Pantanal are best from July to September (the mild dry winter). The Amazon is hot, wet and humid all year round. Birding is good all year but best from August to November.

Jaguar, Pantanal

Pelourinho, Salvador

Macaw, Amazon Basin

The historic centre, known as the Pelourinho (Portuguese for ‘whipping post’, hinting at its dark past as a slave market), is a World Heritage Site with cobbled streets and a triangular main ‘square’. Today it is a hub for cultural and artistic attractions, restaurants and bars.

The beaches close to Salvador, near Praia do Forte, are an ideal spot to relax at the end of a holiday. Morro de Sao Paulo and the more rustic Boipeba Island can be reached by boat or short flight, and offer a real tropical island getaway.

South of Salvador you can fly to the wild beaches of Peninsula de Marau, the luxury lodges of Itacare and the trendy, hip area of Trancoso, which is ideal for a bohemian honeymoon or beach break.

Further north still and close to the equator the beaches are even more stupendous. Accessed from Fortaleza, Jericoacoara Beach, known locally as Jeri, was voted one of the most beautiful beaches in the world. This isolated beach village is one of Brazil’s most scenic locations with stunning coastal scenery, dunes and lagoons. There are colonial gems in the region too. To the north of Recife, Olinda’s historic centre is a World Heritage Site and is filled with galleries and artisans’ workshops. An hour’s drive south of the city the beaches of former slave port, Porto de Galinhas, are now a tourist hot spot. For the ultimate in eco-luxury, fly from Recife to the magnificent volcanic island of Fernando de Noronha, where you’ll find pristine beaches, emerald seas and superb marine life.

Seeing a wild jaguar in the Pantanal Wetlands is a life-changing experience

The flooded Pantanal Wetlands, in the southwest of Brazil, is a real highlight and a must-see for any wildlife enthusiast. This beautiful, expansive area of blue and green flooded forest and marshland is twenty times larger than the Everglades in Florida. It splits into a northern and southern region and extends into Bolivia and Paraguay.

The area is renowned for its superb birds and wildlife and is home to capybara, caiman, anaconda, Marsh deer, Giant river otter, various monkeys and the endangered Hyacinth macaw. Jaguars live in the northern and western Pantanal and, while hard to spot, there is a healthy population here – allow at least a week if tracking this magnificent creature is your focus. The best time to visit is from July to September, when it is not as hot and water levels are lower, making it easier to see the wildlife. The lodges provide tasty, home-cooked meals with daily guided excursions into the wetlands on foot, by canoe, jeep or on horseback.

At Bonito in the southern Pantanal you can swim, snorkel and dive in crystal clear rivers and caves.

Another of Brazil’s iconic wildlife regions, the Amazon, is the largest tropical rainforest in the world and stretches across nine South American countries. Over half of the Amazon rainforest is located in Brazil, with Manaus the main gateway for visitors. Here you can see the unusual phenomenon of the ‘Meeting of the Waters’ at the confluence of the Rio Negro and Amazon rivers. The Rio Negro is black, coloured by natural tannins in the water, whereas the Amazon is sandy coloured, so you will see a distinct line between the two rivers as they flow side by side.

The Amazon is literally miles from anywhere, so a stay of at least 3 or 4 nights is recommended. It’s a fascinating experience with over 10% of the world’s known species found in these rainforests. Lodges are dotted along the riverbanks but you need a keen guide to spot wildlife, as the vegetation here is dense. Pink river dolphins are a highlight and thrive here in fresh water. You may spot caiman and piranha and the birding is excellent. Make sure you bring your binoculars. Another way of experiencing the Brazilian Amazon is by luxury riverboat, exploring the smaller tributaries and creeks at a leisurely pace.

Special Interest Holidays

Travel offers a wonderful opportunity to do and see things that you have previously only dreamed of. We can introduce you to a wonderland of new experiences and if you have a particular passion or interest, we are the people to talk to. Known for our wildlife and cultural holidays, we also have expertise in many other specialisms. Unlike most travel companies, we take the time to research and book even the most unusual requests. Here we highlight some of the special interest holidays that other customers have loved.

Walking

If you enjoy hiking, we offer a thrilling range of walking safaris – ranging from a few hours in the early morning or late afternoon, accompanied by an armed ranger, to specialised walking camps in Botswana and South Africa where all game viewing is on foot. We also offer point-to-point trails in Zambia, where you can spend a week walking from one remote bush camp to another – a truly unforgettable experience!

You can trek to see mountain gorillas, and in most of our destinations we can incorporate a variety of walking and hiking trails into your itinerary, ranging from day hikes to waterfalls and volcanoes in Costa Rica, to Peru's iconic Inca Trail and Nepal's stunning Annapurna Trek.

If you are sufficiently fit, you can even combine a safari in East Africa with climbing Mount Kilimanjaro, accompanied by experienced mountain guides.

Birding

Many of our customers are avid birders who want to spot regional endemics, as well as increase their life list, whilst others are more casual birders who simply enjoy the pleasure of identifying known species and spotting new ones. Whichever category you fit into, we know how important it is to design an itinerary that visits the best birding regions, at the right time of year.

With our extensive network of specialist birding guides, we can tailor make private tours to key destinations such as Costa Rica, Colombia, Mexico, Chile, Argentina, Peru, Ecuador and Galapagos, Brazil, Guyana, Madagascar, South Africa, Botswana, Kenya, Tanzania, India, Bhutan and Sri Lanka. We can also help you track down iconic species, such as the Harpy eagle in Panama.

We offer cheaper lodge-based birding holidays too, using guides employed by the various lodges – although the quality of guiding can vary – and a few scheduled departure tours in high demand countries such as Costa Rica.

Sports & Cultural Events

As we tailor make all our holidays, we cater to a wide range of special interests.

Golf

Our golf holidays in South Africa are particularly popular, allowing golfers to escape the northern winter and combine championship golf with wine tasting and a luxury safari or beach break. You can select the courses you wish to play, varying from social to world class.

Riding

Our riding holidays vary from thrilling mobile horseback safaris in Big Five territory for experienced riders, to family-friendly lodge-based riding holidays suitable for all levels.

Diving

The Indian Ocean offers outstanding diving in warm water, from Kenya all the way down to Zanzibar, Mozambique and South Africa, as well as the islands of the Maldives, Andamans, Mauritius, Seychelles and Madagascar. Galapagos offers live-aboard dive ships, whilst Mexico and Belize offer superb Caribbean diving.

Fishing

These same regions offer some of the best deep-sea fishing in the world. To this must be added the renowned fishing waters of the Baja Peninsula in Mexico.

Sports Events

Sports events are often the catalyst for a special holiday. We can source tickets to rugby internationals in South Africa and Argentina, as well as cricket tests in India, Sri Lanka and South Africa. We can also arrange Grand Prix packages.

Cultural Events

We can also build a holiday around special events such as the Rio Carnival, Holi in India or the Day of the Dead celebrations in Mexico

Cruises & Houseboats

Expedition cruises explore regions that are difficult to reach in other ways, whilst relaxing houseboats provide a different perspective from the water.

Expedition Cruises

Expedition cruises to the Galapagos Islands in Ecuador are the best way to explore the unique wildlife of this stunning archipelago. Itineraries vary in length from several days to a week or more, with a wide choice of boats varying in size, design and cost.

Patagonia expedition cruises sail from southern Argentina to Chile, and vice versa, navigating via Glacier Alley and Cape Horn.

Expedition cruises to the Falkland Islands and Antarctica use much larger vessels capable of handling the polar ice.

You need to be relatively mobile to enjoy an expedition cruise, as you will disembark twice a day for excursions, making your way down a gangplank into a zodiac-type inflatable.

Houseboats

Houseboats are a relaxing way to watch the world go by. They are the perfect way to explore the mighty Amazon River, the largest in South America, whether boarding from Manaus in Brazil, Coca in Ecuador or Iquitos in Peru.

You can also explore Brazil's southern Pantanal by houseboat or sail down the Magdalena River in Colombia.

India has houseboats that sail down the Brahmaputra and Ganges Rivers and are wonderful for observing local life. You can also spend a night on a traditional rice houseboat gliding through the Kerala backwaters.

In Africa, Botswana has houseboats on the Chobe River, superb for both wildlife viewing and tiger fishing, whilst Zimbabwe has houseboats on Lake Kariba. Lake Jozini in South Africa also offers tiger fishing by houseboat.

Houseboat facilities will be en suite, but expect the cabins on many boats to be relatively small and simple.

Ocean Cruises

Through our sister company, Auriel Holidays, we can source a wide variety of ocean cruises that can tie in with tailor-made land arrangements, either before or after your cruise.

Accessible Travel

If you are a wheelchair user or have limited mobility, long-haul travel poses a unique set of challenges, but as the UK market leader in accessible safari holidays we have considerable expertise in this field. Our greatest experience is in Southern and East Africa, but we have been expanding our knowledge in recent years and we now also offer accessible holidays to India, Sri Lanka and Latin America.

Whether you are simply unsure about travelling without assistance, walk with sticks or use a wheelchair permanently, we can design a holiday appropriate to your needs. We know which hotels and lodges are accessible (i.e. ramps, roll-in showers and grab rails) and which are not, and your private guide can travel with a shower chair if needed. However if you use a power chair, we will need to get the approval of the airline before we can confirm your holiday.

In South Africa, Zimbabwe, Kenya, Tanzania and Namibia we have access to a small number of accessible vehicles, with ramps for wheelchairs. If you have upper body strength and can transfer into a regular vehicle, you will have more destination choices.

In India we also have a few accessible vehicles on the famous Golden Triangle route. In Latin America accessible vehicles are found mostly in the larger cities, but if you use a manual wheelchair we can take you to places such as Machu Picchu and the Galapagos Islands.

The accessible section of our website showcases the many destinations we offer, but as you will have many questions please call us to discuss your specific needs or visit us in person and we will be happy to go through all the details with you.

As accessible hotels, guides and vehicles are always in short supply, you should book your holiday well in advance.
